PREPARED - Marie Skłodowska Curie Fellowship Programme 2026

Centre for Disability Law and Policy (CDLP)

Ref. No. University of Galway 001-26

2nd Call – PREPARED Marie Skłodowska-Curie Postdoctoral Fellowships

JOB ADVERTISEMENT

PREPARED is an innovative postdoctoral fellowship programme co-ordinated by the University of Galway and will involve one other university and a non-academic Research Institute (Implementing Partners): Instituto Superior de Ciências Sociais e Políticas Universidade de Lisboa (ISCSP) and Schweizer Paraplegiker-Forschung AG (SPF). The programme is co-funded by Wellspring Foundation, the Instituto Superior de Ciências Sociais e Políticas Universidade de Lisboa (ISCSP), the Horizon Europe Marie Skłodowska Curie Actions programme and the University of Galway.

PREPARED postdoctoral fellows will be provided with the highest quality research environment and a training programme where they will develop disability-inclusive responses to the most urgent global crises of our time.

PREPARED will recruit up to four postdoctoral fellows in this call, each with 36-month employment contracts, providing an unparalleled opportunity for Postdoctoral Researchers at the cutting edge of disability rights research. PREPARED focuses on the most urgent challenges and crises facing disabled people globally and aims to find evidence-based responses and research informed by the lived experiences of disabled people to address these critical issues. We are seeking postdoctoral fellows who can bring fresh perspectives and innovative approaches to their research. This can include research from any disciplinary background whose work relates to or draws on the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

Applications are invited from suitable candidates for up to four, full-time, fixed term Marie Skłodowska-Curie postdoctoral Fellows (Fellows) across the employing organisations. Up to four fellowships may be awarded on the 2nd Call.

PREPARED Fellowships are open to applicants of any nationality who have a PhD degree and comply with the programme's eligibility criteria and mobility rules including disabled researchers and Researchers at Risk (those displaced by conflict or whose situation makes it difficult to pursue research careers are also encouraged to apply. All candidates must discuss their research idea and proposal and seek the support of an eligible PREPARED supervisor for their application.
